CHAPTER V.

MINES IN WASHINGTON SPECTION O E-LOCAL-FITY OF MINERAL DEPOSIT

Washington territory, despite her great min eral wealth, is even less a mining country than Oregon. Her production of gold and silver is so little that she ranks lowest of all those states and territories which assert any claim to the Mile of builton producer. The greater portion of the mining that goes on there has for its observable. not more than 500 men employed in gold and sliver mining, nor is the production, placers, quartz and all included, ever $2.0,000 per annum—a sum not equal to one-fourth of the yearly product of centain individual mines of hich this article will treat.

GEOLOGICALLY ALD DECOGRAPHICALLY Washington possesses the strongest similarity to Oregon The vertebra of the territory is a nontinuation of the (ascade range, which, as has been seen, forms its most marked topographical feature, dividing it into two entirely discimilar regions, kast and the the disciplinaries of the property of the page ranges dry topographical feature, dividing it into two entirely dissemblar regions, hast and West Washington, the one region dry, the other moist, the one particularly devoid of trees, the other a distinctively arboreal region. The Coast range of California and Oregon be comes far less distinct as it passes into Washing ton, but eventually, as it approaches the north, cuiminates in the grand and striking Olympic range, to the west of Poget sound, and dropping off suddenly, casses at the strait of Juan de Fuca. The section west of the Cascade has its mines, but they are of coal, and as such have nothing to do with this article. The formations that contain the coal, in common with all other well-known coal beds of the Particle The formations that contain the coal, in common with all other well-known coal beds of the Particle The formations that contain the coal, in common with all other well-known coal beds of the Particle The formations that contain the coal, in common with all other well-known coal beds of the Particle The formations that contain the coal, in the metamorphic and associated rocks of the central and eastern parts that mineral venus must be looked for As in Oregon, the elevation of the long and loftly Cascade range has exposed wineral bearing strata throughout comparatively wide runges of country. A large proportion of such strata are covered up by larn flows, as has been the case in this state, and it is found it at the voits are mainly exposed wherever running streams have eroded the overlying volume rocks, or where the lava current failed to flow, there, too is a chance for mineral wealth. In these points there is a similarity of oregon experiences, a similarity that extends to the general backward chance for mineral wealth. In these points there is a similarity of Oregon expertence, a similarity that extends to the general backward ness of all sorts of gold and silver mining. Whereas in Oregon the chief mineral deposits of the Cascade region are found to be on the western slope, and nothing of map trance has thus far been found on the eastern sile, the contrary is the case in the territory, where the

of smaller creeks and rivers, draining in fact all that portion of the centers straining in rate of Mount Adams and south of Snoqualtule pass. Its tributaries, beginning at the south and allowing for uncertainties in spalling (these are Indian words and consequently their topography is purely arbitrary), are Satas, Topniels, Athanam, Nachess, Wenass, Manestesh, Te Dum, Lie alum Strain and Miller and Them beginning the strain of them beginning the strain of the strain o d-um, Swauk and Kittitas, all of them haven el-um, Swauk and Kititas, all of them having their own smaller affinents and collecting a considerable river of water in most of their corresponder gold is found and this is particularly true of those streams which, like the bwauk, flow from the mountains around the morthern extremity of the Yakima valley. Unlike the corresponding slope of the range to 0; egon, erosion has been very extransive and there are a great many extensive exposures of quartz bearing strata, in which numerous veins are found.

SWAUN DISTRICT

SWAUN DISTRICT In Swauk district, twenty five miles from Ellensburg, are the most important placers in Washington territory. They lie near the Homenstake quartz lode, and from one creek claim nearly $50,000 was taken, and in drifting in the stake quartz lode, and from one creek and nearly $50,000 was taken, and in drifting in the neigh boring high ones nuggets worth $250 and nore have been secured. Eleven hundred dot lars in wire gold was got from a single crevice, and d lifting for the coarse gold on the bedrock 193 $40 at $4 to the hand. Work has gold on for ten or twelve years, but not always with aureese. The total product of the placers must have been at least $75,000, and more likely $100,000. The largest nugget found there we ghed $744. The miners there are mostly Chinese. The gravel at the mouth of the creek gives a dozen colors in a pan, of very light gold. The heavy deposit of weak gravel would require a large outlay to bring water, without which these promising placers can not be worked. It has been estimated that it would cost fully $20, 500 to build a ditch of the capacity needed WI y this nicessary step has not been taken before is that the people in that section are not mining, but only tinkering, consequently they have presented jet following reasors, which as perisoned and energetic men who have vasital the ground, term purile and unworthy. First, they say, the gravel is as much as twenty or thirty feet, deep, and very heavy pressy at the resy theory wash at the the ground, term puerile and unworthy. First, they say, the gravel is as much as twent; or thirty feet deep, and very heavy wash at the rottom ground shuring would not pay better than drifting to seeme and bring in water for hydraulic washing would be very difficult and coerly, the men who ove relains in the creek tottom would not allow their ground to be used as a cump for the higher clause, thus making it necessary to buy them out or "crib up" against takings. A more determined after thus lately been male by a company, who by means of a survey have found that the ditch need be no more than four miles long, tringing water to a point near the gravel, but 150 feet over it, which represents a good fall. It seems that some very good placer ground is still left. In Washington, which as is well known, has never been fair us for extensions. for extensive or rich placers was are found principally in Swauk, (le-el um nd Pesh is in districts. Cle-el im district com prises the mineral lands lying between the sum the law corrent failed to flow, there, too is a chance for mineral weight. In these points there is a smallarity of Oregon expertions, a ment of all active of gold and siever minor.

WHAT THE QUARTY IS WORTH

As regards the value of the Yakima quartz mines, they stand in a similar condition of development to those of fastern Oregon, and it is only now that effective work seems about to commence. Such mining as has been done heretofore has been largely of an experimental character, seeking to hid out by methods with the means of poor men whether the ledges would pury to work, and if so, by what process should they be worked. Whether the problem has been solved to the complete satisfaction of the owners is doubtful, yet there seems to be some opportunity for the sensible investment of money, particularly in the quartz ledge. As to the phenomenal sessay previously quoted in the connection, they are given on the anthority of the various mine-owners, but the hardly to be accepted as average results. The writer is in formed by assay is that white a large number of picked specimens from the Peshastin and the size is not uncommon at all. THE FRENCH DOCTORS AGAIN. A Pample of the Alleged Miraculous Gares-Will the Visiters Boturn?

There appears to be a very general impression across that the so-called Mrs. Dr. Duflot has left the fown for good—the town's good,—her advertisement that she will return December 1 to the contrary notwithstanding. date. But the truth in regard to some of the alleged wonderful curos of paralysis, blindness alleged wonderful curse of paralysis, blindness, etc., performed by this woman is becoming his will. A poor woman, whose child has one log paralyzed, says she was paid $2.50 to present the child in the golden charlot, and that after the dector had "morkeyed" with the boy after her usual style, she stood him up and told him to jamp, "I cannot." said the boy. "Try," said the great factor, "and I will give you half a follar." So the poor little chap, strading on one leg, meard his body up and down, and the trad cheered, and the doctor looked wise, and not fire great cure had been effected.
